

PROPOSED ITINERARY VICE PRESIDENT HARRIS BORDER VISIT

We're glad to see the Biden Administration finally admitting there is an unsustainable crisis at the southern border that demands serious attention from the White House, however the only way to have an effective border visit is to do the following:

Visit areas with completed border wall to hear from border patrol agents how effective physical barriers and Title 42 authorities are at deterring illegal entry and managing the flow of migrants between ports of entry.

Visit areas where border wall construction is halted and listen to border patrol agents and citizens discuss the disruption to local communities and how susceptible the border is without physical barriers.

Meet with state and local law enforcement to learn about all their resources that are being spent on security due to the federal government's failure to secure the border.

Visit detention centers and spend time with border patrol agents to hear how they are getting pulled off the line to process kids and families instead of securing the border against criminals and illicit goods.

Visit land ports of entry and hear from CBP officers about the record amount of drugs they are interdicting at the border as well as the benefit of Title 42 authorities in managing the flow of migrants at ports of entry.

Spend time at border airports to see how TSA is having to screen and vet migrants who the U.S. government knows absolutely nothing about while also paying for their flights all across the country.
